DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Proper ('805).

The reference discloses a valve for regulating fluid flow, having the claimed elements, including a body (1) defining a passage (20) between first and second ports (5 and 6), a seat disposed in the passage, the seat defining an aperture having a sealing surface, the sealing surface disposed about a central axis and an elastomeric actuator which is deformable to control the opening of the valve. See Figures 1 and 2. The seat is the stepped surface aligned with inlet port (5)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1 and 7-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Proper and Cook et al ('082).

Cook et al disclose using a solenoid-operated valve for controlling fuel vapor purging to an intake manifold of an engine. Proper discloses a valve having a deformable, elastomeric actuator for precise control of fluid flow. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to utilize the known valve features as taught by Proper into the known solenoid operated purge valve system of Cook et al because both types of valves are known and because Proper teaches very precise fluid flow control with the elastomeric valve with no dead volume within the valve.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 2-5 and 9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 1/26/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The reference of Proper shows the claimed elements of a passage (20), a seat located at the intersection of the small passage (20) and larger-sized bore to the right side of Figures 1-2. Note the sealing surface in Figure 1 where the actuator is engaged against the seat.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

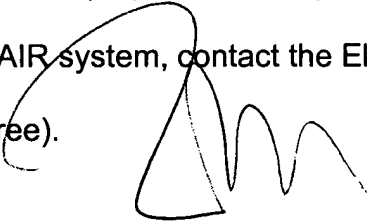

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
